Tennis courts are a great asset to our neighborhoods. By providing public tennis facilities, we enable more people of all ages, abilities, and backgrounds to enjoy the game. Tennis provides wholesome energetic activity for kids after-school, on the weekends, and during the summer months with lifetime health benefits. Neighborhood tennis courts enhance the quality of life for families and children of all ages, from youth to senior players.

Morgan Tennis Courts are nestled within Minnehaha Creek Park, part of a regional system of parks in Minneapolis. The courts are positioned within a prime location in the Lynnhurst neighborhood in south Minneapolis. Morgan Courts provide hours of tennis for neighborhood and community members and serve as the home courts for Washburn High School Boys' and Girls' tennis teams.

In 2017, Love Morgan Courts joined forces with Support the Courts to begin the revitalization of these courts. Love Morgan Courts is a small group of volunteers who are neighbors of the courts and tennis enthusiasts with ties to Washburn Tennis and ICT's Summer in the Parks. Love Morgan Courts wrote grants, requested funds from neighborhood Foundations, and created a grassroots campaign with neighbors and tennis enthusiasts. Our group efforts in partnership with the Minneapolis Park Board were a successful collaboration resulting in these new beautiful courts.
